THE CUBAN SYSTEM

Under the administration of President Diaz of Mexico, magnificent improvements were made in the cities, the cost of living was reduced to the people of the provinces who were reduced to poverty, a system very similar to that employed by the Louis of France, which brought a revolution in the revolution. Logic brought a revolution was produced in Mexico. Diaz was left in turmoil. In all the long period of his unconstitutionally reign Diaz of Mexico was friendly to American investors and was supported by the American government.

Tourists who return from Havana report a condition in Cuba in which Machado plays the part of Diaz in Mexico, and that his observations are correct is indicated by the conclusions of William Hard, a veteran journalist who writes for the Consolidated Press.

Heavy taxes are laid on the mass of the people of Cuba that a great show can be made in Havana, a distinctly Cuban practice. Some weeks ago, while discussing the proposed general sales tax, The Everglades News described it as a poor tax, having in mind the practice in the United States of countries of taxing the mass of the people for the benefit of a favored class of landholders. Heavy taxes and economy might better be employed in Mexico and Cuba to reduce governmental expenses; instead of that, the bureaucracy strives to impose more taxes that their employment be maintained and their salaries raised. It is the Mexican and Cuban system that the advocates of the sales tax in Florida—made people of the mass of the people by contributing increased taxes that landholders and bureaucrats be maintained in comfort and power.

As Mexico and Cuba have lotteries, so too it is proposed in Florida that gambling on horse racing be legalized and a tax laid and the public encouraged to gamble and pay that tax, in order that the taxes on real estate be lessened. The answer to that is that if a man owns more real estate than he uses he should turn it over to surplus and relieve himself of the burdensome tax.

FLORIDA RUINED

More than any state in the union, Florida has been ruined by the Republican congress. 50,000 Democrats were killed into voting for Hoover on three arguments—tariff for farmers and vegetables, flood control and enforcement of the prohibition law, and the tariff. The result, however, is that the tariff takes from Florida consumers more than it gives to Florida producers, adjournment of congress without a vote on flood control, and the steady trend of the Republican party toward modification of the Volstead law.

This does not tell the whole story. Religious groups were played upon and Protestants were asked to vote against Governor H. R. Harris at the election in Washington as the time of 1924 who did not vote.

It is charged that the whole of the church in Florida were maintained for the support of the national Republican ticket. The church in Florida were mostly deceived. But where in Florida is there a less than one and a half foot from the top of the dike, the lowest point being in the vicinity of the Clewiston towage. John K. Mowry, resident engineer of the Seminole Farms, located on the lake shore near Bare Beach, reports that they are going forward with their project rapidly and expect to put in an early fall crop. Their location is quite close to the Bare Beach pumping plant and they supplement this when necessary with their own private plant which has a capacity of 5,000 gallons per minute. The tract is completely diked and adequately supplied with drainage ditches for carrying off the water. During the recent high water level they pumped for twenty-four hours straight for a period of eight days to keep the water off their land.

The Seminole Farms already has 15 acres cleared and under overhead irrigation. At the present time they are putting out pepper seed beds 50x372 feet which will be shaded with cloth. These seed beds will produce enough to supply the entire 75 acres with the best scientific method known and all cultivating will be done up to date Bolen tractor, so Mr. Mowry stated.

The frontage on the state highway on both sides of the highway are being beautified and landscaped in a very pleasing manner. A beautifully clipped lawn right down to the water's edge is sprinkled with palms, hibiscus and other beautiful flowering plants and the buildings are of a pleasing and artistic design. This the Seminole Farms is becoming one of the beauty spots of the upper Glades.
